I don't know how this Japanese meditation is done yet I am grateful that I am grateful and that I meditate each day as it brings me calmness and direction.

Your friend in recovery
NH

happy joyous and free!!

I KNOW I AM IN RELAPSE WHEN MY THOUGHTS ARE ...

- I am 'burned out' with Program and need a break
- I don't need a sponsor
- I don't need to ask for help
- I feel deprived
- I am a failure
- I am hopeless - what difference does it make anyway?
- I forget who is in charge
- I focus on problems and not the solution
- I am not willing to accept the consequences of my actions

I KNOW I AM IN RELAPSE WHEN OTHERS SEE ME ...

- Watching too much TV
- Playing lots of computer games
- Staying up late at night
- Withholding affection and intimacy
- Isolating
- Substituting foods not on my food plan
- Stop planning meals and not writing food down
- Looking for "treats"
- Being a "no show" at meetings
- Showing up late to meetings
- Being restless - start looking for new job, house, foods, etc.
- Worrying, being impatient and indecisive
- On the "pity pot"
- Irritated and blaming others for my unhappiness
- Unable to set boundaries
- Controlling because I am out of control
- Rationalizing and being dishonest
- Being ungrateful
- Not putting recovery first
- Not being responsible for my own recovery!

Lifeline, OA's international magazine, serves as an indispensable "meeting-on-the-go." Lifeline is available in two versions: a 30-page, printed magazine and an electronic online magazine, called e-Lifeline. Both contain the same content. See your group Lifeline representative or www.oa.org/lifeline_mag.html.

There is no finer way to treat people than to accept them as they are.
